

EXCURSION RATES

—ON OUR—

ENTIRE STOCK

—FOR—

30 THIRTY DAYS 30

As we must make room for SPRING GOODS. Our buyer will leave early for the markets; and to clear out stock we will make prices never before heard of in Sedalia. The goods MUST go, we have too many of them.

Entire Stock of Standard Prints, Very Best Goods Made 5c.

5 Bales Belmont Sheeting, extra heavy, 7c.

20 pieces Extra Heavy Red Twilled Flannel, all wool, 26 1-2c

Everything else in proportion at the wide-awake and progressive

NEW STORE,

310 OHIO STREET,

MESSERLY & MEUSCHKE, Proprietors.

SLIPPERS!

OUR LINE EMBRACES THE

Howard, Everett and Opera Cuts!

—IN—

Plain, Olive and Red Plush Cloth!

—AND—

VELVET EMBROIDERED PLAIN MOROCCO!

DIFFERENT WIDTHS. ALL SIZES.

Also a full line of the same in Boys' Youths' and Children's.

"We Will Be Pleased to Show them to You."

VAN WAGNER BROS.

WEEKLY BAZOO.

SEDALIA MO.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1884.

Weather Report.

Corrected daily for the BAZOO by C. G. Taylor, Horologist and Optician, No. 109 Ohio street, for the twenty-four hours ending at 9 o'clock p. m., Dec. 29, 1883.

TIME.	TEMP.	BAR.	WIND.	WEATHER.
7 a.m.	46	29.10	se	Cloudy.
2 p.m.	55	29.12	sw	"
9 p.m.	32	29.21	sw	Rains.

Extremes 32° and 55°

SQUIDS.

—The Baptist ministers and deacons of this district, are holding a meeting at the East Sedalia church.

—Chas. Wilson was arrested yesterday for striking Will Siebe. Wilson gave bond for his appearance to-morrow morning.

—The funeral of Milton Chambers, who was killed by falling off a train near Schell City Friday night, will take place at Rockville to-day under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, of which order deceased was a member in good standing.

—J. West Goodwin, editor of the Sedalia BAZOO, with his accustomed enterprise has made arrangements to run a special excursion train on the Missouri Pacific road to the hanging of Wm. Fox at Nevada on the 28th inst.—to-day.—Missouri Statesman, Dec. 28.

—J. Summers, who resides near the woolen mill, on Mill street, and is a one-armed individual, caused a commotion somewhat on the Pat Shine order last night. He went home under the influence of liquor, turned his wife and child out of doors, and made himself numerous in a general sort of a manner. He was finally quieted by outside help.

—The negro Fox, who committed an assault upon C. S. Walden, several days ago, and who was fined $1 and costs, aggregating $11.25, and given a stay for ten days came very near being run in last evening and provided with quarters in the county jail, as he had neglected to pay his fine. Upon a friend going security for Fox his time was extended until to-morrow.

—Miss Josie Wright remembered her friend Mrs. B. F. Nance with an exquisite panel painting Christmas. It represents two perfect bunches of Malaga and Sicilian grapes hung one above the other against a background of drapery carelessly thrown over an oaken plank. The design is an original one and is full of tinting and coloring of the most effective kind.

—Allen's Brain Food botanical extract strengthens the brain and positively cures Nervousness, headache, unnatural losses, and all weakness of generative system; it never fails. $1 pkg. 6 for $5.—At druggists, or by mail from J. H. Allen, 315 First ave. New York City.

Wouldn't Have It.

Yesterday evening a poorly clad working woman entered a street car. Later a well known preacher came in. He gazed benignly on the passengers and glancing at the poor woman saw that her mittens were thin and full of holes. In the kindest manner he spoke to the woman and tendered her a half dollar, requesting her to purchase for herself a new and comfortable pair of mittens. She repelled his gift with scorn, refused to receive it, and her vigorous language made the good-hearted clergyman regret his attempt to do her a kindness.

Wanted.

To trade pianos and organs of the best make for horses.
JOHN STARK,
225 Ohio street.

THOMPSON TUMBLES

To the Racket of the Police and Appears as a Defendant in the Police Court

The Famous Lindell Hotel Raided by the Police in Broad Day Light.

Friday night's police slate contained only one entry, George Harrison, against whom there was no charge, and to all the questions of the reporter, the only answer he could obtain, was to wait and see. It is needless to say that this was not satisfactory, although he was compelled to wait. But concluding that there was something interesting in the wind which would necessarily have to be stirred up at the police court Saturday morning, he made it a point to be there and was more than amply paid for his trouble, as on Harrison's testimony warrants were sworn out against Edith Thompson, Maggie Williams, Lulu Dean, Fairbanks and Harvey McGee, the proprietress and employees of the famous Lindell hotel (?).

As soon as the warrants were issued they were placed in the hands of the police who proceeded to serve them. A BAZOO reporter accompanied the officers to the place and found it in a somewhat confused state owing to the late hour that the inmates have of arising.

The warrant was served on all the parties excepting Lulu Dean, who was absent at the time but was afterwards brought up. A couple of strangers were seated in the parlor but they made themselves scarce in a hurry.

On being brought before the court Edith Thompson was arraigned on the charge of running a bawdy house, to which she pleaded not guilty. Geo. Harrison then testified, "I had been to the Lindell hotel Thursday and returned again Friday night and inquired if I could get lodging. The clerk told me I could not, but asked me if there was anything else he could do for me. I then inquired for the landlady, and was told she was up town, but that there was a lady boarder there I could see. I tumbled, and thought if there was any crochets work to be done I wanted to do it. The girl was called Lulu and from her conversation indicated the character of the house."

I took a ring off Lulu's hand while with her and after a while I left the house and said I would be back in a couple of hours. I went up town to get something to eat when an officer arrested me for carrying concealed weapons, at the instigation of the landlady. Edith Thompson said Harrison was dead drunk when he came to her house, and she would not allow any of that kind of people around her house.

Fairbanks, the clerk, and McGee, better known as Scar Face Charley, the porter, gave their evidence, but it was only a repetition of what has already been given with the addition that there were five furnished rooms and that board was $4.00 per week.

Lulu Dean said she had been there about two weeks in the capacity of seamstress and dining room girl. The remainder of her testimony is embraced in Harrison's already given.

Upon this evidence the recorder assessed a fine of $20 against Edith Thompson. Lulu Dean was then arraigned upon the charge of being an inmate of a bawdy house. She pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

Fairbanks and Scar Face Charley next stepped forth and entered a plea of not guilty, but were found guilty on the same evidence and fined $10.

Maggie Williams pleaded not guilty and proved that she had not been in the house since the 19th until yesterday. The charge against her for being an inmate of a bawdy house was dismissed.

George Harrison being a traveling man the charge against him for carrying concealed weapons was dismissed.

A warrant was afterwards issued for Wm. Chilton for being found in a bawdy house. He gave bond in the sum of $50 to appear Monday at 9 o'clock.

When Lulu Dean pleaded guilty to the charge of being an inmate of a house of prostitution that arch prostitute, Edith Thompson, with an attempt to look shocked, said: "Well, Miss Dean, if that is the kind of carryings on you are doing you may take your things and get out of the house as soon as possible." This outburst was greeted with laughter by all present.

All the interested parties paid their fines with the exception of the clerk, Fairbanks, who being unable to give bail, is compelled to languish behind the bars in the city bastille. He is very indignant at the treatment he has received at the hands of Edith, and threatens to make it warm for some one if he is not taken out soon. While he would not make any statement, yet in a general conversation which a BAZOOITE remarked he would occasionally make remarks which would lead one to believe that he was more conversant with the affairs of the house than he told, and had he known of the way in which the mistress of the dive would treat him, he would have known more on the stand.

This is the hell hole which the BAZOO has shown up in all its cussedness and depravity for some time, and what it predicted has now come to pass, that the place would be raided.

The evidence of Lulu Dean on the witness stand, and her subsequent plea of guilty to the charge of being an inmate of a bawdy house, effectually closes all doors for any further escape on the part of the presiding harlot or any of her minions from the law's penalty.

The boarding house license, which Edith has continually flaunted in the face of anyone making any complaints against her house, will no longer avail. This scant pretense will no longer protect her in further troubles, and it will no longer be necessary for a complaint to be filed before the law can reach her.

Information was given a BAZOO reporter last night that Edith was going to leave the city Monday. "It is a consummation devoutly to be wished," but sorry will be the place where she stops.

—Dr. C. W. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills are prepared expressly to cure will cure headache of all kinds, neuralgia, nervousness and dyspepsia. Proved and endorsed by physicians.

CLOSING OUT SALE!

With renewed efforts, we present this week, some extraordinary inducements to the trade to work off our large stock before our removal to the

Grand Central

Which takes place soon.

REMNANTS. REMNANTS.

The big holiday trade has left an immense quantity of remnants of Domestic, Canton Flannel, Tickings, Calicoes, Ginghams, Woollens, Dress Goods, Velvets, Silks, Satins, which will be slaughtered in connection with other goods.

READ. READ. READ.

Three Dollars will now buy a $4 Jacket. Four Dollars will now buy a $5 Jacket. Five Dollars will now buy a $6 Jacket.

DOLMANS. DOLMANS.

Reduced to $5, $6, $7, $8, $10, $15 and $20, worth fully 25 per cent more.

SILKS. SILKS.

$1 25 Silks selling at 90c. $1 75 Silks selling at $1 25. $1 25 Watered Silks selling at 90c. $1 75 Brocade Silks at $1 40. $2 25 Silk Velvet at $1 75. $1 75 Satins at $1 25. $1 Satins at 75c. $1 25 Brocade Velvets at $1. $1 25 Velvets at $1. 90c Velvets at 75c. Hoods, Nubias, Mts, Shawls, Ties, Handkerchiefs, Notions of all kinds to be sacrificed this week.

RED STORE, 207 OHIO ST.

G. C. & J. C. McLAUGHLIN,

UNDERTAKERS

Coffins, Caskets, Metallic Cases and Caskets, Burial Robes, etc. Night clerk at store, 116 West Second street. We are thoroughly prepared to attend to all calls in our line, having an experienced Undertaker and giving personal attention to cases entrusted to us. Furniture at wholesale and retail. Largest furniture house in Central Missouri. 4-341y

A SAD SIGHT.

The Son of a Boston Millionaire in Sedalia, Homeless and Penniless.

Yesterday afternoon while making his usual rounds in quest of news, a BAZOO representative had his attention called to a rather shabby clad, but handsome young man who was standing on the corner of Second and Ohio streets, gazing listlessly around, and presenting every appearance of a man in deep trouble.

"Who is he," inquired the reporter of the friend who had directed his attention to the sad eyed young man.

"His name is Frank Woodruff, and his father is one of the wealthiest men in Boston. He is, however, an outcast and knows not how he is to obtain his next meal, or where he is to sleep to-night."

"What is the cause of a young man, son of a wealthy father being in such a condition?" queried the reporter, his professional curiosity thoroughly aroused, and scenting an item interesting if not sensational.

"Well, it is the old and oft told story of cards, wine and women. That young man was a spoiled child; every wish he had was gratified; his supply of pocket money was unlimited; you see the result; a battered hulk of a man wrecked on the reefs of dissipation before he has barely reached the maturity of a manhood which gave such rich promises of a brilliant future in his boyhood; an outcast from home and friends, penniless, loathed and spurned by those who were once proud of his acquaintance and friendship."

The reporter approached the young man in whose biassed countenance there yet lingered many traces of manly beauty, and with a voice choked with emotion, the unfortunate boy after slight questioning related his story, which corresponded in all essential particulars with the statement made by the reporter's informant. The young man, like the prodigal of biblical history, avowed his intention of arising and going to his father and begging forgiveness.

A purse was made up for him by a number of sympathetic gentlemen and he was started on his homeward journey, leaving on the east-bound Pacific train yesterday afternoon.

Further of the Fratricide.

Thomas Hobbs, who killed his brother, Jeff, at Fairfield, Tuesday last, has had an examination at Warsaw and was discharged, all the evidence showing the deed to have been in self-defense.

Chail Hobbs, who was one of the instigators of the affair, became so incensed at the killing that he declared he would take the life of Thomas, and was arrested and disarmed. He has been brought to Warsaw and had a hearing before Squire Morgan, who bound him over in the sum of $1,000 to keep the peace. He now languishes in the jail, but it is thought will be able to give bond in a few days at least.

Thomas Hobbs is almost prostrated with grief. He did not intend to kill his brother; he only struck him to arrest his attack.

The ill-feeling between the brothers which brought on the affair is not definitely known. In fact, no one seems to have any idea what it was.

Death of Dr. A. W. Smith.

Dr. A. W. Smith, a well known dentist of this city, who lost his mind and was sent to the insane asylum at Fulton about six weeks since, died yesterday at 1 o'clock p. m. His body will be brought here this evening and will be taken to his late residence on East Broadway. The deceased was aged about 45 years, and leaves a widow and four children to mourn his death.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate a Good Thing.

Dr. Adam Miller, Chicago, Ill., says: "I have recommended Horsford's Acid Phosphate to my patients, and have received very favorable reports. It is one of the very few really valuable preparations now offered to the afflicted. In a practice of thirty-five years I have found a few good things, and this is one of them."

"HAPPY NEW YEAR."

Leap Year Begins Tuesday—Ladies Can Have Unusual Privileges.

List of Gentlemen Who Will Receive Calls From Lady Friends New Year's.

—Mr. J. J. Tewksbury will receive at the county poor farm.

—John and Will Jaynes (dress coats, panier drapery) will entertain at their father's residence.

—Henry Menschke will give greetings at Sachers' soda fountain to his single and widowed friends.

—P. H. Sangre will receive (for the last time) assisted by Ben and Frank Meyer, at Sachers' parlors.

—George Galbreath, assisted by —, will entertain friends in the parlor of the Tremont house, Boston.

—J. S. Graham, of Nevada, will entertain on a dry goods box in front of H. C. Moore's dry goods palace.

—John S. Landes will receive at the boiler rooms of the water works. Adam's ale will be the only beverage.

—Charlie Taylor, assisted by Otto Vogler and "Harry Dashington," will receive at the cashier's office of the "sand bank."

—Geo. Logan and Warren Galbreath, assisted by Thos. Mitchum and K. T. Gentry, will receive at the reception parlor of the Garrison house.

—Will Steele, in glove-fitting pants, cut bias, will receive at his home on Indiana street, assisted by Chas. Yeater, and James McLean. (No wine.)

—W. R. Crockett, editor of the "D-mocrat," at Nevada, will receive his delinquent subscribers with smiles and receipts in full, at his sanctum, January 1.

—Russell Lemist and Syd Hayward, assisted by Messrs. Bond and Morrill (coat skirts cut en train—railroad train), will be at home New Year's at Sachers'.

—Roy Shumway, attired in a coat cut short and full, of Seymour design, diamond ornaments, will wish his lady friends a happy New Year at the Ohio street billiard parlor.

—Gus Lamy and Thos. Kehoe, assisted by Will Thorpe and Ed. Hignritz, will receive at Sachers' park. The reception parlor will be elaborately decorated. All will wear white vests, cut decollete.

—Dr. Ed. Small and Arthur Maltby, assisted by John and Charley Jackson (with vests cut Langry neck, and Modjeska collars) will give the greetings of the season to friends at the parlors of the Jay Gould hotel.

—Will Courtney, assisted by Frank Donahue and Homer Byler (ruffled vests and ulsters with jack knife platings, hair banded) will keep open house in the wholesale department of Mackey's boot and shoe emporium.

—Dr. H. W. Wood, assisted by Whiteley's Hidden Hand company, will receive at the opera house from 8 to 10:30 p. m. "Capitols," a la "Old Hurricane," with "Wool" sauce, "Black Donald" trimmings.

—Frank Hardcastle, Charlie Taylor, Ernest Lamy and Emmett King—the Big 4—attired in pompadour pants, coat tail basques, vests with plaster on the front, will entertain friends in a beautiful tent pitched on the northeast quarter of the southwest section of the public square.

—C. C. Parker, in a costume a la Henry Irving, will be at home on Broadway to his lady friends and elocution will be served in various styles. Two elegant tables will be laid with fruits from oriental climes. Charles is not matrimonially inclined, more's the pity.

$20.00 Reward.

Strayed or stolen from my premises on Broadway about two weeks ago, a red Irish setter pup, about nine months old, with plain black collar and ordinary dog chain. Will pay the above reward for the return of dog.
JOHN MONTGOMERY, JR.
12-30d2w1t

Goods Almost Given Away

This week at Clute's

Great Clearing Sale!

—OF—

REMNANTS.

Silks, Wool Dress Goods, Velvets, Ribbons, Hose, Gloves and Corsets, Blankets and Comforts

AT COST!

The Goods must go. It will pay to call and see the prices we are making on winter goods.

Winter Wraps!

At about half price.

J. M. Clute & Co.

G. J. LESURE,

UNDERTAKER!

Coffins, Caskets, Metallic Cases, and Caskets, Burial Suits, Etc. Furniture at wholesale and retail. 315 Ohio street. d4w1y

RAILWAY RACKET.

Local Squibs, and Notes Picked Up Along the Different Railways.

—The Missouri Pacific railway company will reduce commuters' rates on the 1st of January.

—Robert Walker has returned and resumed his old position as foreman of the coach department. He formerly held this position for about eight years.

—Russell Lemist, engaged in the superintendent's office of the K. & T. road, will leave for St. Louis January 1st to begin an engagement in Col. Van Dyne's office.

—To I. N. J. if you want to find out whether you can get a through car from Sedalia to Washington territory, you had better inquire at the railroad offices in Sedalia.—St. Louis Republican.

—John Henry, Stringtown, bridge carpenter, who fell from the bridge, Friday morning to the ground, a distance of twenty feet, running a portion of a shrub into his side, was the only hospital arrival yesterday.

—Mr. H. A. Fisher, advertising agent of the Missouri Pacific railway, has had an artistically constructed match safe forwarded to him by H. B. McClellan, the general passenger agent of the same line, as a Christmas present. The safe is beautiful and unique, and Mr. Fisher takes great pleasure in showing it to his friends.

—The Kansas City Star says: "The outlook in railroad circles throughout the west is anything but pleasant, and even those who are but little inclined to sniff danger upon every breeze that blows, now confess that the crisis has not yet been reached. Only the preliminary arrangements for a lasting conflict have been made, but events are fast shaping themselves for the outbreak which, from the present outlook, cannot be delayed much longer. The war which seems inevitable has not, so far as can be judged by the public attitude of the railroad magnates, been sought by the different companies, but has arisen from a series of complications which were the legitimate outgrowth of conflicting interests and a determination on the part of competing lines to make no concessions if a dollar could be made in the refusal. In other words the competing lines began a struggle to get the upper hand of each other and drifted into the present unpleasant channel before they fairly saw their danger."

—Walter Berry, clerk and operator at the hospital, had a narrow escape from being shot Friday night. He was reading in his room until near midnight, when he went down stairs to quiet a dog that was making considerable noise. While there he heard a shot but paid no attention to it until he returned to his room, when he found that a bullet had passed through the window pane and struck the wall beyond, which would have struck him had he remained in the chair he had been occupying. Whether it was accidentally or not is hard to tell. There is only one reason to account for it and that is that the night watchman in the car yards shot at some one pilfering lumber, but this hardly seems plausible as the glass was very heavy and it would take a remarkably good pistol to carry a ball that far. —Fenton Quigley, who was a wiper at the round house, died at the hospital Saturday morning at 2 o'clock. He was admitted some few days ago. He died with inflammation of the brain, and was buried to day at 1 o'clock in the Catholic cemetery. He has a cousin living in New Jersey, who has been telegraphed for. Quigley was about twenty-five or twenty-six years old.

"Buchupalba."

Quick, complete cure, all annoying Kidney, bladder and urinary diseases. $1. Druggists.

Christmas Cheer.

The BAZOO is in receipt of a unique and handsomely printed Christmas bill of fare of the Laclede hotel, St. Louis. The guests of that popular hotel fared like princes of the blood royal, sure enough. Mr. Pat Mead, formerly of Sedalia, and at one time alderman from the first ward, is the very efficient steward of the Laclede.

—LADY, render your skin white with Glen's Sulphur Soap.

—Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.